Manual labelling

The premium class of manual labelers - contact premium series

Manual labelers from contact are suitable for a wide range of labelling applications. In addition to prices, the weight, date and production data can also be printed. Advertising texts can also be quickly and easily applied to goods with contact labelers.

The labelers of our premium series cover over 20 different label formats. XXL devices allow you to print on large format labels - for maximum attention.

The robust full shell housing with an internal label roll ensures long-lasting functionality and the best protection of the labels. Thanks to the ergonomic soft touch handle, the premium labelers are pleasant to use and enable fatigue-free work.

promoflex pick&change

pick&change® - the easier ceiling solution

The new pick&change ceiling solution makes the labelling of goods easier, faster, and safer. It consists of a specially shaped aluminium rail and matching poster displays, which are hooked into the rail without tools such as hooks or eyelets. The clever combination allows you to easily change your price and promotion posters.

Especially for goods placed on a large scale in baskets, crates or pallets, pick&change offers considerable time saving with regards to product labelling. The system is therefore particularly suitable for food, beverage, or hardware stores, as well as garden centres.

The pick&change product range offers various placement solutions. You can use it as a ceiling solution a floor structure construct or wall mounting solution.

Composition and Design

The "pre-print stage" - individual design

The pre-print stage, also known as prepress or repro, is the cornerstone of any print production. The tasks of the "pre-print stage" include precise checking as well as editing and processing of your data for further production. Our in-house graphics department quickly and professionally implements your ideas and wishes regarding label design.

Work is carried out with state-of-the-art workstations and equipment. contact is equipped with cutting edge workflow technologies from ESKO and Adobe with CTP (Computer to Plate Technology) and colour management systems.

We create and produce everything in house - from graphic implementation, to printing plate production up to the production of the label. Through this cycle, the manufacturing process of the labels can be shortened.

Labels for industry and trade

Customized solutions to meet your needs

Whether for merchandise, product or logistics labels – thanks to over 30 years of market presence, contact has unique know-how of label production. Our competent professional staff and our modern machinery always ensure high quality labels.

As a professional label printing company, we can implement over 85 material combinations and more than 3,000 different label formats. We cover nearly all fields of application. From promotional labels, hangtags or shelf labels for trade, to foil, wrap-around or nameplate labels for industry – at contact you will find the right label.

We advise you individually when selecting the colour, format, top material and adhesive of the label. You can choose between different papers and foils as well as special colours, finishing and set-up.

Label printers

Label printing made easy – with direct thermal and thermal transfer printers from contact

There is no labelling task that cannot be done perfectly with contact label printers. With a wide range of peripherals, accessories and software, contact offers you the right printing system for every purpose. Whether bar codes, production numbers or company logos – our printers enable a simple and efficient creation of the label.

Label printers from contact are used in almost all industry sectors. Whether in commerce, the service sector or for continuous operation in industrial applications.

Our printer assortment covers all application types and ranges. From entry-level models for the occasional printing of simple labels, to colour printers for quickly printing colourful logos, up to printers with a modern touch display, which can be used for stand-alone application.
